McFarland's BURGLAR and FIRE PROOF SAFES!

THE undersigned would respectfully call the attention of the above to the above named celebrated safes, and to persons—about against the numerous counterfeits that are vended as the most skilful in the business. McFARLAND'S JEWELLED, or BANK DEPOSITORY, we would only say, are the best and the cheapest safes now in the market, and the public will be obliged to test their superiority over all other manufactures.

Our business is done in a plain, straightforward way, without resorting to humbug or large talk.

Below is one of the many testimonials we are daily receiving from all parts of the country, and which speak for themselves. Messrs. Pond & Hitchcock of Boston were situated directly under the Revere House, and was totally consumed in that great fire. June 1, 1853.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 1853.

Messrs. Wm. McFarland & Co.

Gent.—It affords me pleasure to inform you that the Fire and Burglar Proof Safe you purchased of you preserved your books and papers at the destructive fire of the Pearl st House, last evening, in the most perfect manner. Although it was once heated throughout the fire was so intense and the contents when taken out were so much scorched and hardly bore the smell of fire. Twenty one years in the trade & never offered a safe to my friends with more confidence against fire than cheerfully recommend your manufacture, having had a personal experience of their excellency. Yours truly, statement of his brother's (Rev Samuel A. Worcester, missionary among the Cherokees,) views and practices in relation to slavery. He (Rev S. A. Worcester) has never in any instance paid the master for the services of a slave, but has always refused to do so, on the ground that he would not in any way recognise the right of the master to the wages of the slave—he has in some instances hired slaves to labor for him on this condition—that he should either pay the slave the stipulated wages, or retain them himself, for the slave's benefit.

B. F. POND & HITCHCOCK.

"In a late visit, (Rev J. H. Worcester says,) I asked my brother if he thought slavery would become one of the permanent institutions of the Cherokees and Creekees? He replied that in his opinion it would depend upon the course of the American Board. If they sustained their missionaries in the country, he doubted not that slavery would be in due time, abolished; if they withdrew them, he thought it would long remain, if not become permanent. The missionaries of the American Board are understood in all that region to be set against slavery, while the missionaries of the Baptist Board, are, some of them, slaveholders, and those of the Method ist and Presbyterian Boards are apparently acquiescent or indifferent in the matter."

High School Levee.

The Senior Class of the Girls' High School held a Levee at the school room on Tuesday evening. The room was finely decorated, the largest and finely finished Globes present d to the school by Mr. John J. Wingate, were conspicuous, one of each end of the right Pianoforte, also the property of the school.

The company was social and friendly, the Senior Class appeared to excellent advantage, and all seemed to enter heartily into the joyous occasion. The exercises were highly interesting and consisted of select reading by members of the class, and it was reading which could be listened to with delight; singing select songs, accompanied by the piano-forte; and the reading of the Class paper to which every member of the class contributed, and no member more than one article. The variety, force and beauty of the articles give them a high character as the literary productions of the school room. The graduates of this school have for several years past, been noted for their promotions and several of them have become contributors to newspapers and periodicals, and some of the number, perhaps of the present graduating class will by and by, appear in standard volumes, i. e., if volumes do not go out of fashion by the progress of the newspaper!

A large number of the friends of the class were present and were highly gratified with the entire exhibition of the class, their easy and graceful manner, and the just and appropriate sentiments which so strongly marked the literary performances and gave a grateful aroma to the beautiful flowers of rhetoric by which they were adorned.

The sentiment and spirit of a just and true equality now pervade the school rooms in our city, and if the same can be carried out into practical, every day social life, this will be a highly favored community. It is gratifying highly so, to find the tone of our schools such as will favorably influence the community.

The following parting hymn was sung very tastily and with fine effect, by a member of the class, Miss Fannie A. White:—

The joys we've here tasted, have left in each heart,
Bright memories of splendour which will never depart,
We've spurned together, and hope for more,
This love of those pleasures to return never more.

As we sail on the main and the splendours of noon,
So we pass not for pleasures' full vanish at last parts.
As the sun, when he reverently smiles sinking in rest,
So our joys as they leave us are prized by us best.

The days of our school-life, how rapid their flight!
Like a tale that is told, or a dream of the night.
Our school-mates have ended—the pleasures are o'er,
And no more will revival us, no more, never more.

While we think of the years that so quickly have fled,
We sigh for the absent and weep for the dead.
And we so we are left, soon we too must part,
To meet never again, in this home of the heart.

May the pathway of life to each one be bright,
With the beauties of goodness, with heaven's pure light;
Ever onward, still upward our spirits shall soar,
All new joys and our friendships shall fail never more.

After closing the exhibition exercises, the company were invited to partake of refreshments in the Hall over the school room, to which all repaired, and repaired the waste of their systems, by partaking of a rich banquet, elegantly served.

On returning from the table, the young and the old, the gray headed and the curly headed, tempted by the light music of the piano-forte, gathered themselves in pleasant row—and thus a very pleasant time!

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, March, 1854.

We have received from George R. Smith the March number of this interesting and valuable magazine. The opening article is an illustrated account of the Grinnell expedition in search of Sir John Franklin. The second article, also illustrated, Cotton and its Cultivation. The numerous other articles make up a capital variety of matter, and the fun in the pictorial department is almost too good.

This number may be obtained at George R. Smith's bookstore on West Market square!

"Good gracious! no!" was the reply, "I want a horse."—Lynn News.

The News from Europe by the Atlantic received by telegraph yesterday, has not all expectations for a settlement of the issue between Russia and Turkey. War is inevitable and with the powerful allies engaged will, with a few short weeks and perhaps days, produce effects which will startle the public. Hungary will probably engage with Russia; and England and France are now both engaged in the common cause of protecting the integrity of the Ottoman empire, and these two great nations are now making the most extensive preparations for the conflict and with a spiritual pride of arms will be ambitious to display their prowess.

The contagion of war has stopped the decline in the bread and grain markets, and caused an increase.

The arrival of every steamer from Europe will now be looked for with the most intense interest as the conflict can be indifferent as to the progress of the war in which the parties engaged are capable of dealing so heavy blows.

Oyster Supper.

We are informed that the Ladies of the Universalist Parish in Oldtown will furnish an oyster supper and "Ruins," Friday evening, the 10th instant, in the hall of the vestry of St. James' church. The proceeds of the supper are to assist in purchasing an organ for the Universalist church. All lovers of good cheer and good music are invited to attend.

The Washington Globe states that the debate during the last two days and nights in the United States Senate, on the Nebraska bill will make about one hundred columns in the paper. The speeches are to be submitted to their authors for revision before publication.

John R. the Sun, says that whatever changes take place in politics or religion, law or order, two things seem, in this city, to be fully settled, one is that he shall enjoy sherrill and the other is that the Maine Law will be sustained.

The most lively reading from the "Box" of the Bangor Mechanics' Association will come off on Friday (to-morrow) evening. The public are invited to attend.

Harper's Magazine, for March, handsomely illustrated and with a rich freight of good matter, may be obtained at Eugene's book store on Kenduskeag bridge.

E. F. Duren has Harpers' Magazine for March on the counter of his bookstore, near the post-office.

Miss Lucy Stone will deliver a lecture at the Baptist meeting-house at Hampden on Monday evening next.

We are under obligations to Hon. Edward Everett for public documents.

Considerable excitement was caused in the Park yesterday, where Mrs. Ora alias Gabriel, was preaching to the multitude. CHARLESTON, March 5.

The steamer Isowin arrived to-day from Havana with the cashe for Washington, detailing the seizure of the sloop-of-war Black Warrior and the schooner John S. Foreign Items.

One of the most interesting portions of the foreign news is the letter, which the Emperor Napoleon addressed to the Czar on the 29th of January. The Emperor details the state of affairs between Russia and Turkey, and the negotiations that have taken place, and concludes as follows:

"Such, Sire, is the real result and a statement of the fact. It is clear that, having arrived at this point, they must either bring about a definite understanding or a decided rupture.

Your Majesty has given so many proofs of your solicitude for the tranquility of Europe, and by your beneficient influence has so powerfully arrested the spirit of disorder, that I cannot doubt as to the course you will take in the alternative which presents itself to your choice. Should your Majesty be as desirous as myself of a pacific conclusion, what would be more simple than to declare that an armistice shall now be signed, that things shall resume their diplomatic course, that all hostilities shall cease, and that the belligerent forces shall return from the places to which motives of war have led them?

Thus the Russian troops would abandon the principalities, and our squadrons the Black Sea. Your Majesty, preferring to treat directly with Turkey, might appoint an Ambassador who could negotiate with a Plenipotentiary of the Sultan, a convention which might be submitted to a conference of the Four Powers. Let your Majesty adopt this plan, upon which the Queen of England and myself are perfectly agreed, and tranquility will be re-established and the world satisfied. There is nothing in the plan which is unworthy of your Majesty—nothing which can wound your honor; but if, from a motive difficult to understand, your Majesty should refuse this proposal, then France as well as England, will be compelled to leave to the fate of arms and the chances of war that which might now be decided by reason and justice.

Let not your majesty think that the least unanimity can enter my heart. I feel no other sentiments than those expressed by your Majesty yourself in your letter of the 17th of January, 1853 in which you write, "Our relations ought to be sincerely amicable, based as they are, upon the same intentions—the maintenance of order, the love of peace, respect for treaties, and reciprocal good feeling." This programme is worthy of the Sovereign who traced it, and I do not hesitate to declare that I remain faithful to it.

I beg your Majesty to believe in the sincerity of my sentiments, and it is with these sentiments, that

I am, Sire, your Majesty's good friend,
NAPOLEON"

The London Times refers to this extraordinary document in flitting terms. It says it cannot see the use of offering terms to the Czar which he has already rejected, and rebukes the Emperor for presuming to speak in the name of the Queen of England.

There is absolutely no news from the Danube.

The rumor by the previous arrival, of a great battle is not confirmed.

The moment it was known that the English and French squadrons had returned to the Bosphorus, a division of the Russian fleet darted, out, and proceeded to attack Fort St. Nicholas (Steel Reid,) which had been taken by the Turks; but the Russians were repulsed. The news caused the greatest sensation at Constantinople, and a conference was held by the Admirals and Ambassadors, at which it was then determined that cruisers should be permanently kept in the Black Sea to prevent the repetition of a similar event.

The accounts from Wallachia are most deplorable. The Russian "protectors," it seems, treat this protected somewhat in the same fashion as the Spanish conquerors treated the Indians when they refused to work as food and fuel for their haughty masters. It has been already stated that the Wallachians have been obliged to do the work in which beasts of burden are usually employed, and that crowds of the peasants and farmers have fled their homes, have passed into Austria, or have crossed the Danube and joined the Turks, rather than submit to the cruel duress imposed by their task-masters. The inhabitants of several villages near the Danube had fled their houses. The Russian General had ordered that young women and young girls should do the work imposed on them by the troops. They refused. Cossacks were sent among them. The Cossacks were resisted by a numerous body of peasants, armed only with scythes and clubs. The General sent troops who inflicted on them "an exemplary chastisement." If we are to believe the revelations of a Wallachian gentleman who has just arrived in Paris and is to have an interview with the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and who was called near the spot, the "exemplary chastisement" was nothing less than the massacre of the women and children of three villages in the neighborhood of Giurgevo.

The Science of Blacksmithing.

The Scientific American says:

Sawing heated iron and steel, is not known or thought of by blacksmiths; and when several forks or branches are to be formed from one stock, even if the branches are required to remain eventually nearly like parallel and parallel to each other, the usual method is to split the end of the iron with an awkward chisel; thereby deforming the edge of each branch; on which account, the branches must be hammered and shaped to their proper form. If they are brought together as well as may be, usually resulting a roughness in form, if not a deficiency of size and strength near the junction of the branches. Instead of this tedious process, the iron when heated may be put into a vice, and the ends may be readily slit with a suitable saw, which would save much labor in hammering and filing. A saw for this purpose should be made thicker at the edge than at the back, and with uniform teeth about one-twelfth of an inch apart. The saw when used must be often dipped in water, to prevent its becoming too much heated. There is also a method of sawing or cutting hardened steel, which is not so generally known as should be. A circular piece of common thin iron-plate, or sheet iron being adjusted to a lathe, or by other means put into a violent rotary motion, will readily saw off a file, a hunting tool, or tempered steel spring, without drawing or reducing the temper. There is much mystery in the wonderful effect of this plan, and its cutting property is attributed to electricity. It answers a very convenient purpose, however, when the shape and form of articles are required to be altered without obtaining their temper. It furnishes a convenient method for cutting the teeth to large saws, but objectionable on account of the newly cut surface being left so hard that they cannot be readily filed by a common file. Connected with the subject of "mysterious effects," it may be stated that a bar of iron of almost any size, may be instantly sundered; while hot, by the simple application of a piece of common roll brimstone. A knowledge of this fact will be useful, when some piece of iron work is required to be severed, but which as it must in the case, is so constructed and situated that no ordinary chisel or cutting tool can be brought to apply. Holes may be instantly perforated through bars or plates of heated iron, by the application of pointed pieces of brimstone.—This phenomenon is curious, although it seldom affords much practical utility."

The sons of toil are not, as a class, thoughtful enough. They are too well satisfied to tread in the footsteps of their forefathers—"illiterate predecessors" though they might have been—to inquire into the why and wherefore of the processes they go through to perform their work. There are exceptions, of course, to the rule, and it is to those exceptions that the great body of laborers are largely indebted for the facilities already afforded them for their ability to turn out the productions of their labor.—Knowledge is a great help to the laborer, and all should strive to gain it. It does not require so much time to obtain a good education as is spent by nine-tenths of the uneducated after pleasures which do not and can not afford them half the satisfaction that a general knowledge of the arts and history of the world would.

We have often thought, when we have seen men hammering and sweating over a piece of red hot iron, that they were expending labor in vain, and have sometimes suggested the idea to them of trying a saw to the iron heated to a white heat; but we are not aware that any to whom we have recommended the matter has ever made a trial. Not being a worker in iron we have no actual experience in the business, but it seems to us that the suggestions contained in the above article from the Scientific American are worthy the attention of mechanics engaged in shaping iron.

While upon this subject, we will add a fact of interest to barbers and other shavers of the beard. Science teaches us that the steel of which razors are made is composed of minute particles which cross themselves in every conceivable manner. The best idea we can give the reader is to compare the steel to snow-flakes. To the eye the surface of the razor is perfectly smooth, but a view of it through a powerful microscope discovers to the sight a very rough exterior with an edge as uneven as a saw. It is the crossing and mixing of these particles that gives the razor a keen, cutting edge. By long usage and constant stropping in the same hand these particles become drawn in one direction, and consequently deprive the razor of its keen edge, and it is thrown aside as "used up," when in fact it only needs rest, and in time will become as "good as new."—By laying it aside a sufficient length of time these particles re-cross themselves, when, with honing and stropping the razor cuts quite as well as ever it did in its palmiest days.

We happened to be mentioning this fact to a gentleman of this city a few days since, and he immediately confirmed our statement by saying that when he was about nineteen years of age he purchased a razor of the "Last Barber" setup—a stump which was then A No. 1—and used it for seventeen years, when he laid it by as a worn-out razor. This was about thirteen years since. A year or more ago he took up the old, worn-out razor, strapped it, and to his astonishment shaved himself as smoothly and pleasantly as in days long syne. He assures us that the razor now shaves as satisfactorily as any he ever put upon his face. WORREN.

Several other amendments were also rejected. The Bill was then reported to the House, when

Mr Goode moved to lay it on the table.—Negatived, 60 to 124.

The question was then taken on the first amendment, restricting the benefits to free white persons, and adopted by a vote of 101 to 78. The Bill was then read, and finally passed; yeas 107, nays 72.

Remonstrance of John S Rieker and al, against the petition of the Central Market House Company.

GEOLOGY OF ENGLAND.—English geologists seem to have an abundant supply of work on hand at the present time. Professor Edwards Forbes says that the geology of England must all be done over again as is indicated by certain facts which have come to light in the Isle of Wright. "Strata and vast crags," he says, "have been mistaken, and we have now to regard our English series of Eocene tertiaries, hitherto imperfect, to be the complete it perhaps in the world. And by these we are unabled to assign true places to strata bordering on the mediterranean, and even so far off as Australia."

The correspondent of the New York Express says:

"The Nebraska bill will not cannot get through the House, at the start, on the Previous Question. Some Southern Whigs means to see fair play—and the Northern Hards don't mean to have the House gagged. I don't think a vote will be got on it before or July August next, but I may be disappointed.

So that restrains a man because he is "a good match" must not be surprised if he turns out a "Lucifer."

ARRIVAL OF THE

ATLANTIC,

AT NEW YORK.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT!!

CZAR'S REJECTION OF ARRANGEMENT!!

WAR INEVITABLE!

BREADSTUFFS RISING!

BOSTON, March 8, 1854.

The steamship Atlantic arrived off New York last night. The news by this arrival is highly important and will be received with the greatest interest.

The Czar has rejected the proposals of the Four Powers. His answer declining to accept the proposed arrangement was received at Paris on the eighteenth of February.

War is consequently deemed inevitable, and troops were embarking day and night at Dublin and Southampton when the Atlantic sailed from Liverpool.

Ships were fitting out at all the ports to convey troops.

The city of Constantinople is being strongly fortified with all the modern elements of engineering.

The Turkish army and fleet are in excellent condition, and the rank and file are well as the people, highly enthusiastic.

A proclamation of Queen Victoria forbids the exportation of arms and ammunition and marine engines, except to friendly nations.

At an explosion in the collieries near Wigan, England, one hundred persons were killed.

Breadstuffs at Liverpool are advancing.

Wheat had advanced two pence; flour six pence. Corn unchanged.

Later.

"Think on me when it shall be well with thee."—Genesis, c. xl., v. 14.

Give me one thought of thine,
My loneliness to cheer,
And I'll the gift enshrine
In all my heart holds dear.

But not when o'er the head
The circling shadows rest,
When sorrows blanch the cheek,
And chill the gen'rous breast;

Not when the quiv'ring lip
And moisten'd eye are telling,
That thy "heart of hearts"
Distress hath fix'd her dwelling;

But, oh! when skies are breaking
Around thee and above;
When choicest flowers are twining
To bring thee joy and love.

When hope her chalice fills,
And it thy lip is pressing;
And life with pleasure thrills,
And thou hast ev'ry blessing

Then give one thought of thine,
My loneliness to cheer,
And I'll the gift enshrine
In all my heart holds dear.

To whom it may concern.

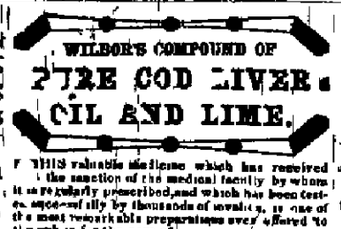
Tamarinds—Tamarinds!

A VERY nice article may be found at the drug store of S E PERKINS

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.



THIS valuable medicine which has received the sanction of the medical faculty by whom it is regularly prescribed, and which has been tested successfully by thousands of invalids, is one of the most remarkable preparations ever offered to the public for the cure of

CONSUMPTION, SCROFULA, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA BRONCHITES, SPITTING OF BLOOD, AND ALL COMPLAINTS OF THE LUNGS.

Pure Cod Liver Oil has long been acknowledged to be the most effectual article for the cure of Consumption and kindred diseases, yet unassisted, with the nauseous properties of the PHOSPHATE OF LIME, are above known as medicine as being peculiarly healing Incases where all emotion has taken place in the lungs, this article has been found by the most careful tests, to supply the very ingredients necessary for the formation of cells and thus complete healing of this delicate part of the human system

This preparation of the pure Cod Liver Oil and Lime robs the oil of its very nauseating taste, which renders it far superior particularly to invalids.—The thorough incorporation of the Phosphate of Lime with the Oil is only been accomplished by the adoption of the most perfect rules of chemistry and a medicine has thereby been produced which is of a certain value in a climate like our own

A long array of certificates might be given here to prove the efficacious character of this medicine but it is not deemed necessary The fact that from the very first introduction of the Cod Liver Oil and Lime before the public it has been gradually accepted by the wide full it is sufficient proof of its unquestioned Testimonials to the value wholesale and retail by

This Cement which has been proved to be of great strength will be found particularly useful in every family the simple manner of its application is alone a recommendation The adhesive property which it contains is so wonderful that many things will last twice as long in a fresh place than where they have been mended with it. The variety of purposes for which it may be used are so numerous that it would be difficult to paste them. Its success in mending Glass Chairs &c. is astonishing, to an ordinary degree of heat standing it, and as the joints are scarcely perceptible articles of, that would be made useful for years, which otherwise would have been cast away.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

DR. KENNEDY of Roxbury has discovered in one of our common plants a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple—in fact there is scarcely a disease in the catalogue that it does not conquer, from a common headache to the worst case of Erysipelas, or Blood Poison. It has cured more cases of Salt Rheum than all other remedies combined. It has never failed in a case of Ringworm, Tetter or Salt Rheum. It has cured more cases of Scrofula than all the Sarsaparilla in the country. It has cured more cases of Dyspepsia than all the other medicines ever used for that complaint. It has cured more cases of Liver Complaint than all the Pills and Cathartics ever made. It has cured more cases of Female Weakness than all the Female Pills ever advertised. In short it has never failed in any case of Blood Disease, from whatever cause originating, and no matter how deeply seated or how long standing.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a worm case in the worst form.

One bottle is warranted to cure the worst case of Ringworm on the face.

Three bottles will clear the system of Blotches, Pimples or Pustules on the face.

Five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Scrofula in the system.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and ulcerating sore throat.

One bottle will cure any eruption of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of scald head.

Four or five bottles are warranted to cure the most obstinate case of Salt Rheum.

Four to eight bottles will cure the very worst case of scrofula.

One bottle is always sufficient to relieve from the first to the third and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so impossible to those who have to resort to all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed grow up in the pasture, and along old stone walls should cure every blotch in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. It can be had at a trifling cost. There are no long rigmarole humbugging about it so that some one has got money. I paddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures of the age in Massachusetts. I want to call upon every lady and old people of both. I have seen poor, puny worry looking children whose flesh was pale and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives relief to hasty catarrh and dizziness. Some who have taken it have been subject to fevers and sore throat by it. Where the body is sound it works quick and; but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature it will cause very singular feelings, but you must not be alarmed—they always appear from one day to a week. There is no drug had result from it—on the contrary whenever it fails to cure you will feel yourself like a new person. Read a few of the most extraordinary cures of it that ever was heard of.

The following certificate from Dr John C Warren, of Boston, was given 17 years since but will not forever

Boston, Jan. 5, 1853.

Having had occasion to observe but some persons M. had with Hernia have suffered much from the want of skilful application in mechanic bending Trusses to the circumstances of their cases I have taken pains to inform myself of the qualifications of Mr J F Foster to supply the deficiency indicated by the death of Mr Heath After the acquisition of what was done by him, I am well satisfied that Mr Foster is well acquainted with the fine structure of these last Organs, and ingenious in accommodating to the variety of cases which occur I feel chilled upon to recommend to the notice of my professional brethren and to the publicus a person well fitted to supply the wants in regard to these important Instruments

JOHN C WARREN, M D

The undersigned take great pleasure in recommending to the favorable consideration of those who are afflicted with Hernia the Improved Trusses of Mr James Fred'k Foster as an efficient and economical person in the manufacture and fitting of Trusses. With a small pad kept constantly (for twenty years) and therefore speak from personal knowledge of his abilities the early advantage the long experience and the large number of individuals whom he has relieved in a variety of cases render him to their peculiar capacity, best adapted to the manufacture of the article. His Letter Bell Gutta Percha and Elastic web Trusses are the most perfect of their kind, and possess advantages over all others. I have myself worn one of Foster's Trusses for upwards of twenty five years during which period Mr Foster made it his study to improve the instrument, and I can truly say that I have derived more benefit from it than from all others which I have worn. I have recommended it in a great number of cases, with great success, many of which were of long standing and distressing character

It is well known to all who have occasion to wear Trusses that the existing mechanical principle of applying the pad to the body at present is the cause of much pain and suffering to the patient. An ordinary observer may see many persons with the mechanical contrivance cap apparatus of figure 8's and offensive straps about the complaint

Our experience has convinced us that Mr Foster has thoroughly studied the principles of the instrument and is entitled to the confidence of the afflicted. The certificates of Dr J C Warren and Dr Hamilton signed with which has shown to us fully exists in the system we here endorse

MEDICATED INHALATION,

A NEW METHOD.

A MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY has recently been made by Dr CURTIS for the cure of Asthma Consumption Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Lung Complaints, by Medicated Inhalation. Dr CURTIS'S HYGEANA or INHALING HYGEAN VAPOR and CHERRY SYRUP, has accomplished the most wonderful cures in Asthma and Consumption in the city of New York and vicinity for a few months past ever known to man It is producing an impression on diseases of the Lungs never before witnessed by the medical profession [See certificates in hands of Agents]

The Inhaler is worn on the breast, under the linen without the least inconvenience, the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid, supplying the lungs constantly with a healing and agreeable vapor passing into all the air cells and passages of the lungs, that cannot possibly be reached by any other medium, Here is a case of

ASTHMA CURED.

BROOKLYN N Y Dec 20 1853

For about eight years I have been severely afflicted with the Asthma for the last two years I have suffered beyond all my powers of description; most at a time I have not been able to sleep in a bed getting what rest I could sitting in my chair! My difficulty of breathing and my sufferings, were so great at times, that for hours together my friends expected each hour would be my last During the last six years I have had the skill and attendance of some of the most celebrated physicians in this city, but received no permanent benefit, and but little relief I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr Curtis's Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup. At the time I first procured it I was suffering under one of my most violent attacks and was in great distress almost suffocating for want of breath, In less than ten minutes from the time I applied the Inhaler to my stomach and took a teaspoonful of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great measure from the difficulty of breathing and had a comfortable night I have since continued it with the greatest possible benefit and am now comparatively well Gratitude knows the amount of suffering this medicine has relieved me from My advice to the afflicted is

CONSUMPTION CURED.

NEW YORK Dec 27th, 1853

I came to New York in the ship Telegraph, my native place is St John New Brunswick, when I reached this city my health was very poor, had a bad cough I used a good deal of matter which was frequently mixed with blood, had pain in my left side and was very weak had emaciated My friends and physician pronounced my case consumption and beyond the reach of medicine I accidentally heard of Dr Curtis's Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup and obtained a package, which I verily believe was the means of saving my life Soon after wearing the Inhaler I found it relieved the pressure on my lungs and after a while the blood made its appearance upon the surface under the Inhaler I took the Cherry Syrup as directed and continued to do so, my cough gradually growing better and at last entirely left me and I now consider myself cured I still wear the Inhaler as the use of it is rather pleasant and believe it strengthens and purifying to the lungs I feel very willing at present to dispense with it JOHN WOOD

AYER'S

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A

FAMILY PHYSIC.

THERE has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. That has been prepared to meet that demand, and its extensive use of in various has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections but all the advantages of every other This has been aimed to here and with what success we would modestly submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain unless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity, but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously Minute directions for disease in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them we may mention Liver Complaint, in all various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Languor and Loss of Appetite, Costiveness, Irritability, Bilious Headache Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Piles in the Head and Limbs, for, in truth all these are but the consequence of deranged action in the liver As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Costiveness, Piles, Colic Dysentery, Humors Scrofula and Scurvy, Colds with soreness of the body Ulcers and impurity of the blood in short any and every case where a purgative is required

They have also produced some surprising successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy Erysipelas, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Back, Stomach, and Side They should be occasionally taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action and restores the appetite and vigor The purity the blood and, by their stimulant action on the circulating system promote the strength of the body and restore the unsound or diseased energies of the whole economy. Hence an occasional dose as advantageous even though no serious derangement exists but unnecessary dosing should never be carried too far as every purgative medicine reduces the strength, when taken to excess. The physician cases in which a physic is required cannot be enumerated here but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body, and it is confidently believed that pill will discover a better purpose than any thing which has hitherto been available to mankind When their virtues are once known the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine
